THE COLLEGE APPLICATION PROCESS

Welcome to your senior year! This booklet provides you with important instructions to complete the college application process. Please share it with your parents and keep it as a resource to use throughout the year. The booklet includes current and useful information for choosing and applying to college and financing the cost of college. Please pay close attention to deadlines. The colleges, school counseling office, and other organizations to which you may be submitting documents expect you to meet designated deadlines.

It is critical that you discuss your post-high school plans with your parents, teachers, school counselor, and others whose opinions you value. Communicate with your counselor on a regular basis so she can be of assistance with the process.

Your senior year of high school is important to the college admissions counselors. They expect you to continue challenging yourself with rigorous courses and to continue participating in extra curricular activities and contributing to your community. Most of all, your grades should be as strong as possible. The college admissions office will likely review your mid-year and will definitely review your final transcript to ascertain your continued eligibility for admission to college.

RESEARCHING COLLEGE

Keep an open mind to the possibilities:

Use NAVIANCE, college search websites, College Board, and your school counseling office resources to narrow the list to a manageable number of colleges.

Colleges offer open house programs in the fall for seniors and their parents. Physically placing yourself on the campus and talking to staff and students gives you a better sense of yourself in that environment. You may also be able to schedule an interview to speak to an admissions representative. Make the appointment prior to the open house visit. Take a copy of your transcript with you to the interview. Take a copy of the “Questions to Ask on A College Visit”, that is included in the booklet, with you to the open house program.

There are also virtual tours and interactive communication sites with current students on the internet that can help in your search for the college that is the best fit for you.

The Perry Hall College Fair 9/27/23 @ 6:30 pm & The NACAC College Fairs on 9/26/23 from 6:30-8:30 pm provide opportunities to speak with college representatives in person and virtually.

Representatives from many colleges schedule visits to Perry Hall’s School Counseling Office throughout the first semester. You may sign up to meet with visiting college admissions officers by signing up in Naviance under “What’s New” link and then click on “More Info/Register” to sign up. The Counseling Office will send you a pass in first period the morning of the visit.

Community Colleges

For many students, a community college provides the best fit for the transition from high school to college. Also, difficult economic times have required students and parents to explore alternatives to entering four-year college programs as freshmen. Community Colleges provide many opportunities for students. Financially, they are much less expensive than four-year colleges. Students are admitted regardless of their educational experience. In general, University of Maryland System Colleges have transfer agreements with the community colleges in Maryland to accept transfer credits toward bachelor's degree programs.

Military Academies and ROTC Scholarship Programs

Students considering application to military academies and ROTC programs must start the process prior to senior year. Seek the assistance of your counselor with this application process.

Athletes

If you are planning to participate in Division I or II sports in college, you must register with the NCAA ASAP at <http://www.ncaa.org/> or Google NCAA Clearinghouse.

Some Important “Early” Definitions

Many students like the idea of applying to colleges early, having the process completed by winter break, allowing them to focus on the scholarship process during the second semester. Applying early might, in fact, be a good idea for some students. Below is an explanation of some of the terms used to describe the various ways of applying early:

Early Decision

Several schools offer an admission plan for those students who are certain of their college choice during the first semester of their senior year. Application deadlines for early decision plans are usually in October or November. A student who applies to a school under an early decision must sign a contract (as do the student's parents and college counselor) which states that the student will commit to that school if accepted. The student also states that he/she will withdraw all other applications submitted to other schools and that he/she will not submit any others. Applying to a school early decision is a serious and binding commitment.

Students applying early are reviewed primarily on the basis of their performance through junior year, so the early decision option is usually advisable only for students with outstanding academic records. Responses for early decision applicants are usually received before winter break of the senior year. A student may apply to only one school as an early decision candidate, so if you decide to do this, you should be sure that it is the school you would like to attend.

Early Action

This is a decision plan similar to that described above, but the important difference is that your acceptance is not binding. Most early action deadlines are in November and December, and you will usually receive a decision before winter break. You will have until the May 1st National Decision Date, to decide whether or not you will attend that school. You may still apply to other schools even if accepted under this plan. Decisions under this plan are made primarily on the basis of your performance through junior year.

PRIORITY

This decision plan is usually the same as Early Action but may be linked to scholarship money.

Helpful Hints on Choosing a College

Select colleges that will best satisfy your needs, interests, lifestyle, and personal and professional goals. A good "match" between you and your college will be the key to your success and happiness over the next four years. Establish with your parents the budget for application fees and only apply to colleges that you really would attend if accepted. To help you make that difficult final decision, the following "helpful hints" may assist you in determining which college is right for you.

1. Visit Colleges

Visit the colleges you are considering when classes are in session. We recommend that you tour the campus, attend one or two classes, meet with the faculty in the department which interests you, eat in the dining hall, and, perhaps most importantly, talk with current students. Students are the best sources of information about the college; they will talk honestly and knowledgeably about the social life, academic program, and atmosphere on campus, dorm life, and other topics that are important to you. If possible, plan to spend one night in a college dormitory. It will enable you to communicate informally with students, get the "feel" of the campus, and "sample" life as a student. The Admissions Office at most colleges will arrange an overnight visit for you, either before or after acceptance. Remember that you are not just choosing a place to go to school; you are also choosing a home for the next four years. It should be a place where you feel comfortable, relaxed, involved, and challenged.

2. Consider Actual Cost Rather Than "Sticker Price."

Unfortunately, some students base their college choice on the "sticker price" - the full cost for tuition, fees, room and board - rather than on the actual cost of attending. Most colleges offer significant amounts of financial aid, including non-repayable grants, to students with demonstrated need. In addition, colleges frequently offer installment payment plans, low interest loans, academic scholarships, jobs on campus, and other forms of aid to students, irrespective of need. When all forms of aid are considered, a college education, either private or public, can be surprisingly affordable. Apply for aid (even if you don't think you qualify) and consider actual cost when making your final decision.

COLLEGE ADMISSION TESTING

Most four-year colleges require the SAT or ACT under normal circumstances. Due to COVID-19, many colleges have gone test-optional, meaning, you have the option to submit test scores or not. If you do not submit test scores, remember that all other pieces of your application will take on more weight. You may decide to take an SAT prep course through another institution. There are SAT preparation programs through the high school, at Community Colleges, online at www.collegeboard.org or through private companies such as Kaplan, Huntington, or Sylvan (these can be very costly). To register online for the SAT, go to www.collegeboard.org. To register for the ACT, go to www.act.org. If you are applying to a college early, take the SAT/ACT test no later than October of your senior year so your scores will be available at the time you submit your application.

At the time of registration for your SAT/ACT tests, you may request your scores be sent to up to four colleges of your choice at no additional cost. Additional requests for score reports can also be made at a later time for a fee. Students who qualify for Free/Reduced lunch may qualify for a fee waiver for the cost of the SAT/ACT. See your counselor to get the SAT or ACT fee waiver if you participate in the Free/Reduced lunch program. It is the student's responsibility to request his/her official scores be sent directly from the College Board or ACT to each college.

RELEASE OF SCHOOL RECORDS

Official Transcript Permission Form/College Transcript Permission Form

An essential step in the college application process is to have your high school transcript sent to the colleges to which you are applying. Have your parent/guardian, if you are under 18 years old, sign the Naviance Transcript Release form, provided in this booklet and available in hard-copy through the counseling office, which allows your counselor to send your official high school record of classes, grades, class rank and GPA to colleges. The Release of Record or College Transcript Permission Form requires a parent/guardian signature to comply with federal law. Complete the required information and return the form to the counseling office. Transcripts are usually sent to colleges electronically, but some colleges require that a “hard-copy” be sent. If you need a paper copy, you will submit your request with the School Counseling Secretary. At mid-year, your transcript will be sent only to the colleges that require one. You must again complete a request that a “mid-year” transcript be sent if your college requires that.

After you graduate, one final transcript will be sent to the college that you report to us at the end of your senior year, by filling out and returning a senior survey online.

School counselors will need at least seven (7) school days to process transcript requests.

Completing the College Application

The application process has been made a little easier with the use of NAVIANCE and the Common Application. Read directions carefully. Look for key words such as Early ACTION, Early Decision or REGULAR DECISION. How you apply DOES MAKE A DIFFERENCE in the admissions process. Make sure you complete your application completely and accurately (and neatly if you are completing the rare paper application) and by the deadline.

Most college applications have an associated application fee which is non-refundable. Students who use a fee waiver for the SAT/ACT test may also be able to get a fee waiver for some college applications. Students may also have application fees waived by college admissions representatives by visiting a college. Submit your application in sufficient time so that it is received before the application deadline date.

How to Obtain a College Application

1. Different colleges use different types of applications. Many colleges use the Common Application which is one application and essay that can then be submitted to any college using the Common App. Applications will be available on www.CommonApp.org. If the college you are looking for does not show up in a search on the Common App website, then they do not accept that application. Students will need to link their NAVIANCE account with their Common App to ensure that teacher recommendations and transcripts can be processed and sent. Linking Common App and Naviance – Watch the video with directions on how to do this located on your home page of Naviance.
2. Some colleges have their own application located on their website. Sometimes, this is the only way to apply or sometimes they give the option of their own application or the Common App. If that is the case, they have no preference. A college's application will be typically located under the "Admissions" tab on their website.
3. Many HBCU's (Historically Black Colleges and Universities) use the Common Black College Application located at <https://commonblackcollegeapp.com/>

Application Essay

The application essay is a perfect opportunity for you to directly address the college's admission committee to introduce them to you from a personal perspective. You can share your reasons for applying to a particular college, career goals, insights, and opinions as well as your accomplishments. Through your essay, the committee will be able to assess your communication skills, while acquiring a broader understanding of your attitudes, feelings, imagination, and creativity. The essay should help them to distinguish you as an individual from the other applicants. The essay should reflect your personal voice.

Arrange with your English teacher to have him/her read the rough draft of your essay and assist you with changes, as needed. Remember, this is a process that takes time. It will require you to write, revise, and rewrite several times. Ideally, you should start your essay in the Spring of your Junior year to afford yourself the time to create a well written essay that you will be proud to submit to the admission committee.

Follow-up after Completion of the Application

Verify with your college that they have received your application, letters of recommendation, transcript, Standardized Test Scores, etc. Do not assume that your application is complete until you have obtained that confirmation. A college will not consider your application complete unless they have all required materials by the deadline. Even one missed item will cause you to miss the deadline. A second in-person visit to your top-choice colleges can assist you in making the final decision as to where you will attend college.

LETTERS OF RECOMMENDATION

Counselor Recommendation:

Most applications require a School Counselor assessment and/or Secondary School Report. Most Secondary School Reports will be completed by your counselor electronically. It is your responsibility to speak to your School Counselor to ensure that this form is completed and then to complete the required NAVIANCE process and submit it to your counselor.

The counselor will need at least ten (10) school days to complete your letter of recommendation and secondary school report before it is submitted to the college to which you are applying. Please watch your deadline date to ensure that your paperwork will be completed by the date designated.

Teacher Recommendations:

Some colleges require/accept teacher recommendations. Carefully consider one or two teachers, preferably ones who you have worked closely with who will write a complimentary recommendation for you. It can/may be a teacher from a previous year. Meet with the teacher(s) personally and provide a copy of your student activity summary/resume, unless they can access it on Naviance. Make sure that you have also completed your Senior Brag Sheet located at the link on the homepage of your Naviance account. Provide your teacher time to complete a recommendation; at least Three weeks prior to your deadline date. Follow up with the teacher with a thank you note and verify with them that the recommendation has been completed.

Types of Financial Aid

Grants – This type of aid does not have to be repaid, but there may be an obligation regarding grades while in college, selection of major, or employment upon graduation. Grants are awards that may be based on financial need or other eligibility criteria.

Scholarships – Scholarship recipients may have to meet criteria such as academic achievement, extra curricular activities, community involvement, etc. They may also require certain criteria to be met while in college.

Federal Loans – These usually have lower interest rates than commercial loans and must be repaid generally after you have graduated or left college.

Student employment or work aid – This may mean a job that the college located for you or employment you found on your own.

How to Apply for Financial Aid

Look on the websites of the colleges to which you are applying to request specific information about institutional scholarships and institutional financial aid. This will usually be located under the “Financial Aid” tab/link. Complete the institutional financial aid forms neatly, accurately, completely and timely. Meet your deadlines!

Use free websites to do scholarships searches (some sites are available in this packet). Start your search for scholarships early in your senior year. Scholarships are available throughout the year. Criteria for scholarships vary widely: academic merit, leadership, service to school and community, talent, financial need, etc. Scholarships that are advertised to PHHS will be added to Naviance where you can access the link or application. Local scholarships will be advertised and available on Schoology and in the Counseling Office.

FAFSA

Timeline for FAFSA—early December

The FAFSA is the U.S. Dept. of Education’s free application for federal student aide. The FAFSA is used by colleges to determine eligibility for financial assistance. Go to <https://fsaid.ed.gov/npas/index.htm> to get your FAFSA ID that you will need to be able to complete the FAFSA. Complete the FAFSA as early as possible beginning in early December. The form should be done online at: www.fafsa.ed.gov (this is a FREE application). Most colleges award financial need monies based on the determination of need on the FAFSA report. You will need your ID to access the student aid report (SAR) online.

The State of Maryland requires that you complete the FAFSA to be considered for any State financial aid programs. You will need to create an MDCaps account to access MD aid. Information about scholarships available through the Maryland Higher Education Commission can be accessed at www.mhec.state.md.us

CSS PROFILE

The CSS/PROFILE is a financial aid application used by some number of private colleges and universities. The CSS Profile is a very detailed financial application used by colleges/universities to determine financial need. There is a fee for this application. Apply early. Check the Colleges website to see if this form is required.

Attend the financial aid evening presentation with your parents here at our school. The Counseling Office at PHHS sponsors a Financial Aid Night on October 5th and FAFSA Completion Days TBD.

Please be aware of and alert to financial aid and scholarship search scams. Be careful of scams from unscrupulous people who wish to charge you for scholarship searches that you can do for free. You should NOT be charged for a scholarship search. Remember, you should not spend money to get money!
